

Educating the Gifted in Gezira State between Reality and Expectations

Dr. Shaza Omar Ali Abdullah

Abstract

Gifted students need special care and education to develop their mental, emotional, motor and social abilities in order to prepare them for right citizenship and benefit from them in the future. The study aimed at knowing the educational services that are offered by the teacher at Wad Madani School for talent and excellence. The study used the inductive method, the results of the study revealed the following:

The Gifted School does not have an environment that suits the They are not educated by specialized teachers with experience in special education - teachers are trained and trained in programs that make them match the needs and capabilities of Educational gifted children needs of students.

Children are chosen according to scientific standards and codified on the Sudanese environment.

No special educational programs have been prepared for the gifted and based on the following results, the female researcher recommends the following: -Improving the school of talent and excellence, appointing teachers specializing in special education, qualifying and training teachers working in the school of excellence, preparing special curricula for the gifted to suit their abilities.

Introduction

There is no doubt that the mind is a great grace from the Almighty preceded over mankind , and the Holy Qur'an has demonstrated its

Educating the Gifted in Gezira State between Reality and Expectations

Dr. Shaza Omar Ali Abdullah
HAIL UNEVERSIY